Foreword

Perspective is the capacity to view things in their true relations and relative importance. The idea of perspective can be illustrated by the school we attend, for it is the whole world scaled down—it is a complex of contributing parts, as is our community and world. When our school teaches us perspective—to see truly—and perception—to see with understanding—we grow and can push aside illusion and see the truth, and we can gain the courage to face it. We can see the world whole and complete. Look at us and see us as we were in '66.

School Spirit Inspires Us To Do Our Best

A single picture of John Marshall may hold a different meaning for every viewer. For post-graduates, perhaps it is a picture of their youth. For graduating seniors, a look at John Marshall is often nostalgic. They might remember the cramming during finals week, the excitement at Prom time, the frustration felt on Monday mornings, and the honor of commencement that is somehow bitter-sweet. Underclassmen may regard John Marshall as their home away from home, where they go to learn about themselves and the rest of the world. It is the place they go unfailingly, whether they are full of pep or tired, elated or discouraged. To everyone John Marshall is a picture of education, growth, and increasing understanding. To each student John Marshall represents a memorable and important part of his life, when work and play mingled and personalities were formed. It is recognized as an integral part of the lives of young people.

To the readers of this annual we suggest looking at John Marshall in perspective to everything around it, keeping in mind youth, education, and the world today.

CHEERLEADERS EMBODY SPIRIT in the homecoming parade. They are Leah Albers, Pam Hughes, Debby Lasater, LaVon Nelson and Christie Cooper. In costume is Spirit Bear Nancy Knight.

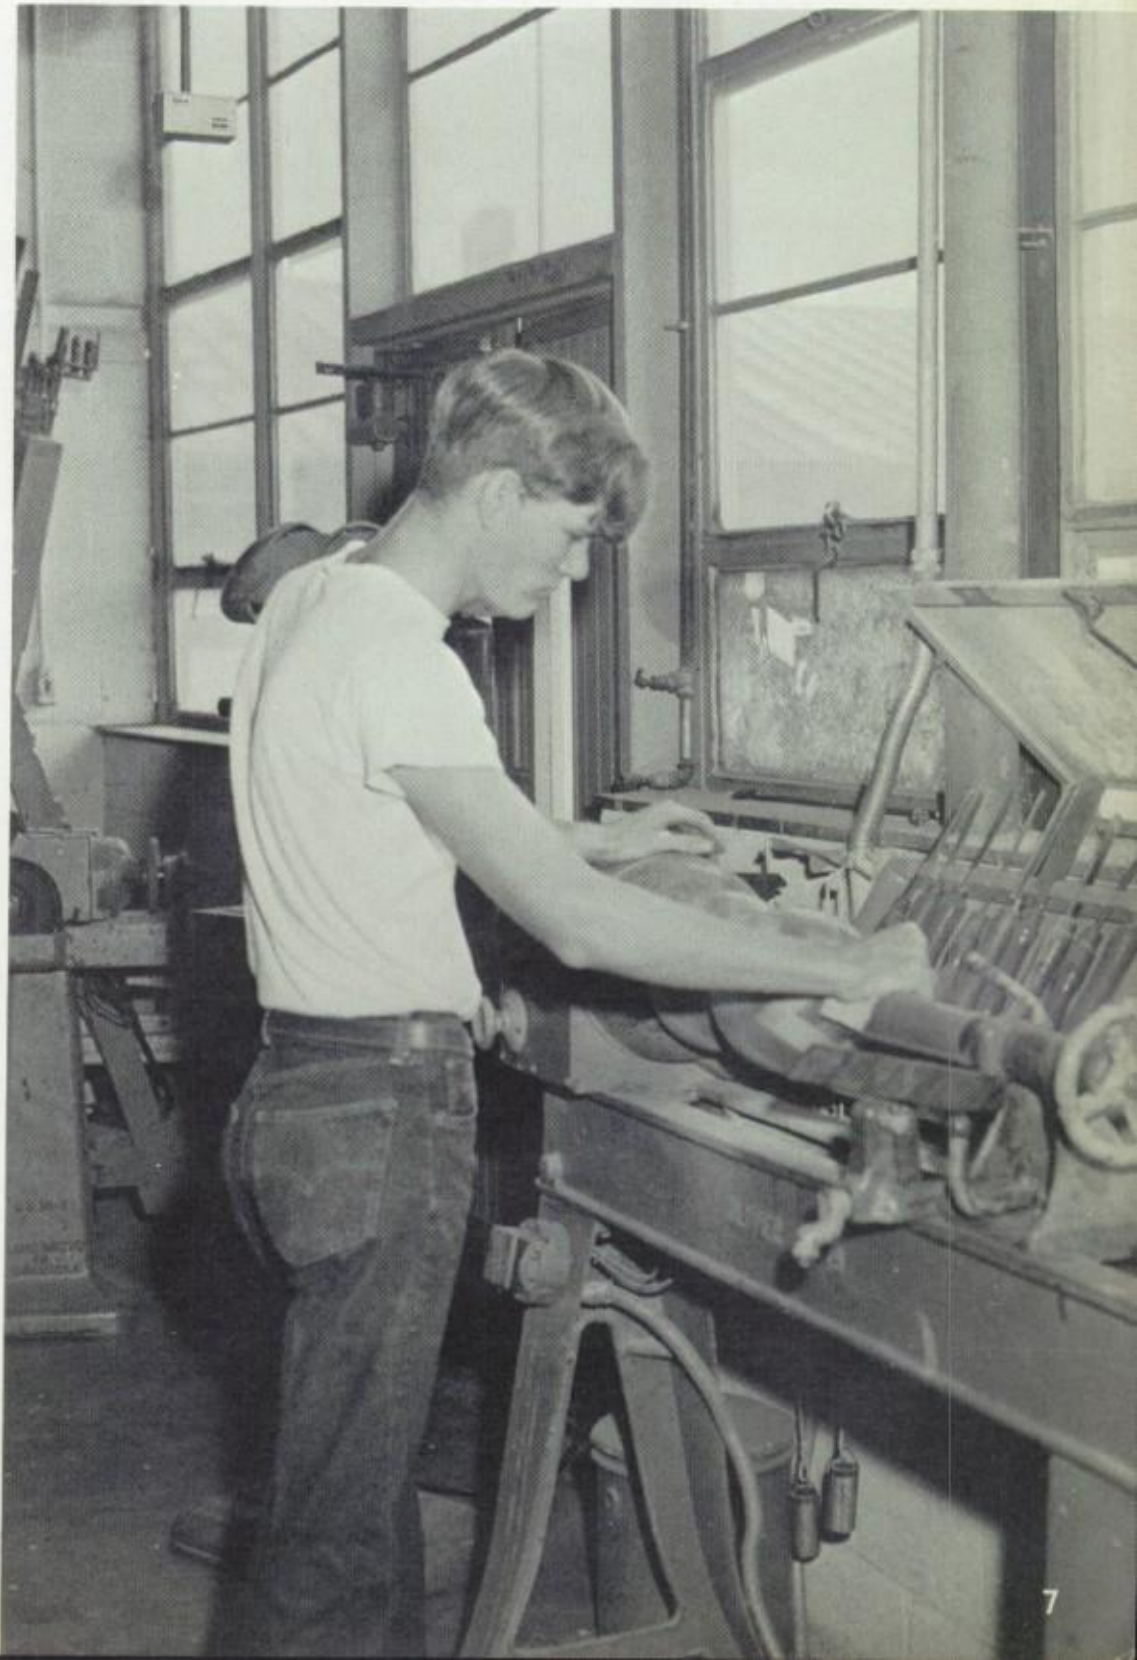

School Can Teach Us To Live Creatively

Students at John Marshall are educated with the realization that graduates will be living everywhere in the United States. It is the aim of our school to prepare young people to live as well-rounded, creative citizens in our society. This goal is achieved by offering a wide variety of subjects that will interest and aid individuals with different tastes and ambitions. The students' physical abilities are encouraged and given direction in physical education and sports classes. In the vocational and business classes students are trained to enter the world of commerce and specialization, while science seminar, math analysis, and great books classes are available for those who wish to learn beyond the required. Those who make up the school's curriculum are concerned with both the mental and physical growth of the students. The fine point of balance is determined by looking at the adult world in perspective to its problems and expectations,

ONLY HIS HAND can give it cunning—Only his soul can give it grace. Woodworking is important to many students at John Marshall, and is helpful in many vocations. Andy Mathis works at the lathe.

SATISFACTION CAN HAPPEN when the answer to "why?" and "how?" is being personally sought. Under the instruction of Mr. Mart Woods, Ken Hammond sets equipment for an experiment in chemistry class.

JUDGED THE MOST FRACTURED of the fairy tales, the Distributive Education float featured Rapunzel, Karen Welton, on the arm of a Bear, Larry Stewart. Vanquished is George Turner.

Bears Greet Homecoming With Exuberance

Homecoming—the most hectic time of the year was scheduled for the crisp autumn day of October 1, but activities began several weeks before when dedicated Bears built floats into the night in cold garages and damp back yards. The afternoon of the parade was cloudy, but clearing and the parade itself was noisy, colorful and wind-blown. Speculation about the election of the All Sports Queen stopped during the half time of John Marshall's hard-fought football game with Southeast High School. The traditional homecoming ceremonies began with the entrance of the five smiling, waving candidates in sleek convertibles and culminated in the crowning of 1966 All Sports Queen Kay Young and the semi-formal dance in the school cafeteria.

Scientists Study With Texts, Test Tubes

Science is ever-present in our society and has been an established part of education for centuries. At John Marshall a student may take life science and physical science, basic courses for junior high school; high school students may take geology, biology, Earth science, electronics, physics or chemistry. Students particularly interested in science may take science seminar. Here they are able to study any phase of science they wish to. The originality of the students and the expert guidance of the science teachers make each year's Science Fair a worthy showcase for the whole school. Marshallites are fortunate to be provided with the opportunity to participate in a well-developed program of classroom, laboratory and field work.

PRINCIPLES LEARNED IN THE CLASSROOM are put to practical use in the laboratory and in the field. Ken Huffman gains experience in surveying by practicing with a sextant on the school grounds.

DEMONSTRATING TO STUDENTS in chemistry class the proper way to connect meters is Mr. James Sparks. Chemistry is becoming one of our more important sciences and its teaching in high school can lead to new discoveries in the future.

The school's fine arts program has been rapidly expanded. The program encourages not only the development of individual talent, but also an appreciation for the talents and accomplishments of others. Students may participate in a wide variety of performing arts: choral groups, band, orchestra, musical comedies and drama. Various art classes explore the many mediums of art. Extracurricular clubs help guide the young artist. The Thespians Club brought the amateur theater to the John Marshall stage. The Pickwick Club published a literary magazine recognizing the talent of students with writing ability; and the Art Club found new outlets for the painters and sculptors. Through the fine arts courses offered and the activities of clubs, the students at John Marshall have every opportunity to enjoy and understand the influence that the fine arts have on the world today.

Fine Arts Program Offers Creative Outlets

ART IS BOUNDLESS, only its pursuit is limited. Advanced art students, Suzanne Williams and Trey Aven, are given an opportunity to experiment in several mediums under the supervision of Zelma Oliver, art class instructor.

WELL-DESERVED NEW UNIFORMS gave added enthusiasm to the marching band. Sam Shultz, Mike Shaw and Mike Johnson march at halftime at the John Marshall-Harding football game.

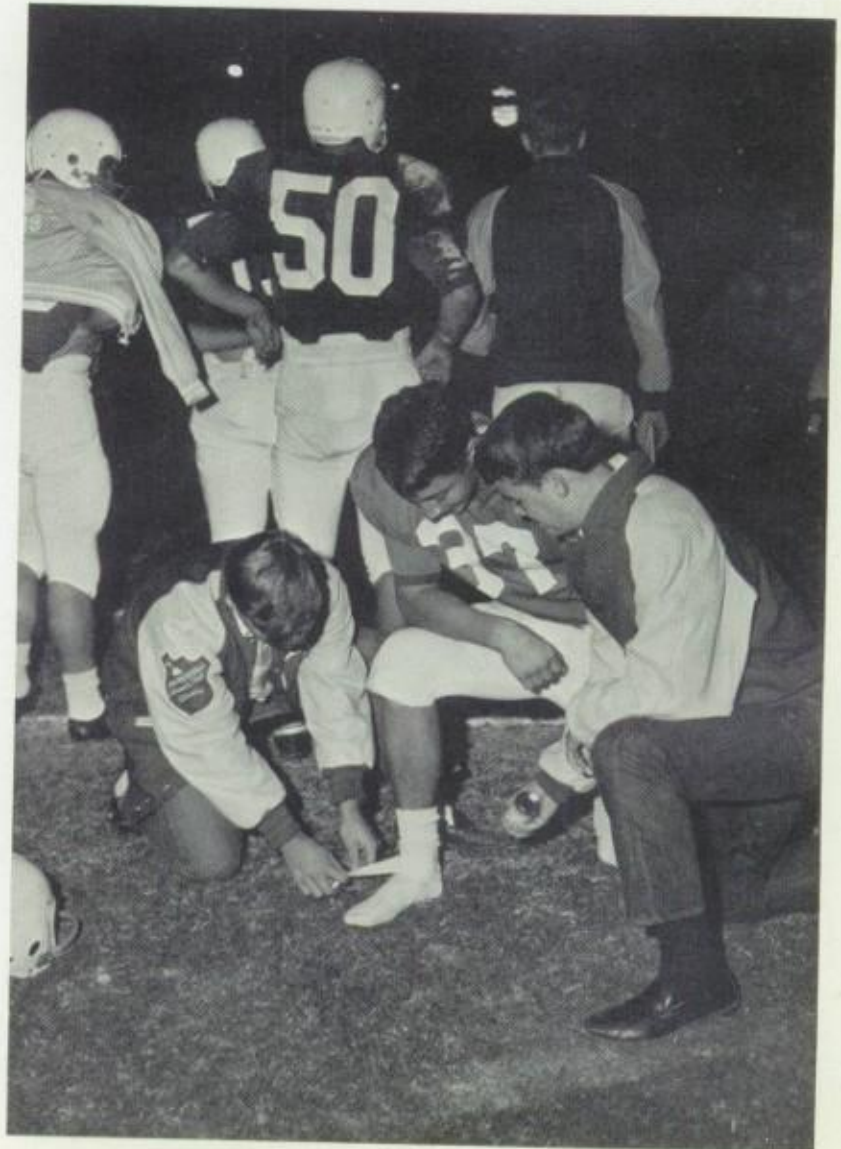

THE FIRST FEBRUARY SNOW decorated the unsightly portable buildings and provided ball game fun for Carl Rush, Greg Schuette, and Doug Tower.

Doors Open: School Comes to Life, Kids Gather to Talk of Happenings and Homework

When the doors open at 8:00, John Marshall comes to life. Students gather in the halls to talk about happenings of the night before, coming events, and the homework they forgot to do. At 8:30 the bell rings and students scatter, running so as not to be late to class. Some classes prove interesting, while in others hopeful recipients of hall passes stand at the teacher's desk. When the hour is over, doors fly open, and the halls are once again filled with students. After lunch, the afternoon is filled with more classes and occasional assemblies. At 3:30 everyone heads for home, although a few stay at school for reasons such as: sports activities and try-outs of various kinds.

THE COWBOY HALL OF FAME which was completed in the fall is a monument to those who struggled to open the West. Jeff Greene, John Savage, Linda Blakley, Pat Kernan, Phyllis England, and Kay Young are standing before the pond that symbolizes the pioneers' need for water as he moved west.

Students Arrive Early for 8:30 Classes,

Gather In Hall To Talk, Relax Before Bell

Sophomores assemble early each day to catch up on the latest news of classes, school dances and weekend dates.

For those students who miss breakfast, the halls offer a clean floor in the morning.

Juniors wax merry by the library each morning to hear some of Jeff Greene's jokes.

Classes Start, Work Begins

Members of the stagecraft class work hard on decorations and backdrops for the school plays and assemblies.

The 8:30 bells ring and bring work with them as classes begin. After the students have scattered and cleared the halls, only the devotional and flag salute echo through the corridors. Twenty minutes of "homeroom" advisory period precede classwork. Then ten until nine signals the start of a long day, to be broken only by class breaks and the welcome lunch hours. What we learn in these classes may determine the way we look upon life.

Students in Mr. Sparks' science class examine precious gems—or could they be class rings?

Hall Passes Enable Travel To Exotic Places

Happiness is a hall pass. Where can you go on a hall pass? Just think—anywhere. You can make it clear from the exotic gym to the library, and read a while, or to the shops, if you want to get that far away. Like I said at the beginning, Happiness is a hall pass.

A long time favorite among the hall-pass crowd, the school store.

Once in a while a student does reach the library, where one may study in peace.

"After the said destination point has been circled, carefully sign pass in blue ink and send student merrily on his way."

"I don't care if you chicks do want the walls Moonlight Champagne, the big bugs say the usual pink and green."

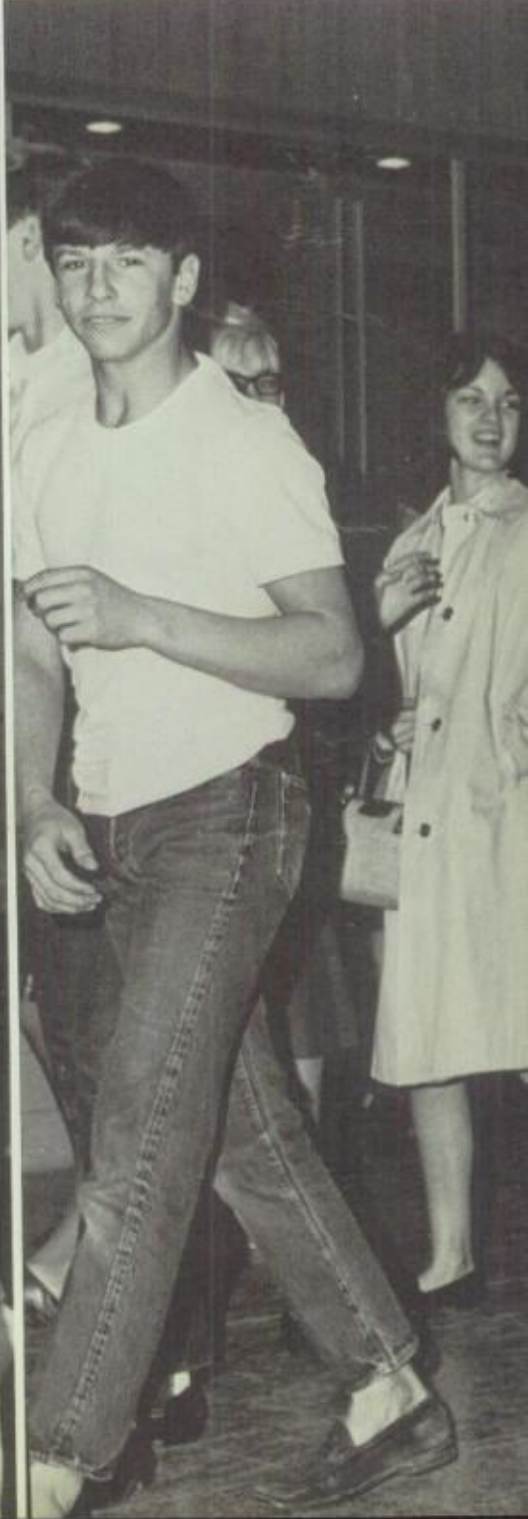

LUNCH IS A GOOD TIME to discuss various activities and events. In the cafeteria are Mike Cooley, Mark Wadsworth, Clark Gray, Bobby Brindley, and Chuck Martin.

Class Breaks Enjoyed by All; Students Linger Around Halls

There are students who consider breaks between classes their most important subject at school. This is the period when five minutes seem like one minute. This is the friendly time when everyone speaks to both friends and enemies. During this time you will find long lines at the water fountain, especially in hot weather, and kids blocking the halls in big mobs.

Some students are in a hurry to get to their next class, while others poke along and cause congestion. There are teachers stationed in the halls during class breaks, perhaps to watch the confusion. It is during this time that dates for the weekend are made and broken. Everyone enjoys the class breaks because it is then that the "important" activities take place.

Seniors Toil Over Macbeth's Puzzling Plot

Story by Ce Ce Sprowls

I get more cuts with my-coo-coo than with this king-size Hazel-hatchet.

How doth this grab thee Banquo Baby?

Out damned dog-er-spot?

"A hearth?"
 "No, a heath."
 "Well, that's a candy bar."
 "No—a heath."

Senior English literature classes read Shakespeare's "Macbeth" first semester. This particular class, Mrs. Hazel Hale's third hour, eked out humble performances and arranged the desks in a large circle.

Sitting in a circle, though, presents certain problems. Mrs. Hale motions Kathy Greene from her seat for what appears to be a private consultation. As Kathy waits, Mrs. Hale gives her short skirt a definite downward tug.

After periodical yoo-hoos to attract attention, class beings.

"Now, go ahead Lady Macduff," while across the rather irregular circle Dennis Waggoner's desk top slowly slips into his lap.

"What's 'fie' mean?" (from the back).
 "It means poo-poo," answers Mrs. Hale.
 "What do you people say when you're disgusted?"

"What does Macbeth look like?" (from the back) and it is discovered to be Delaine Bowman in the corner.

Without hesitation Mrs. Hale retaliates, "John Wayne."

This ultimately brings on a vivid discussion about John Wayne who, Randy Sengel claims, weighs "230" and Tim Stoner interrupts with "Lardo," which in turn stimulates an equally vivid discussion of evolution.

"No, he couldn't have been that big, the people back then were smaller" . . .
 "look at Eric the Red . . . "Eric the Red?"
 . . . "they were only 5 feet tall" . . .
 "don't give me that" . . . "there's mutations always."

More seriously, each character, responsible for explaining his own part, proceeds to interpret every scene.

"I don't understand," explains Melanie Lockney, "what I meant when I said 'Banquo's buried, he cannot come out on 's grave.'"

"She's simply poo-pooing the ghost, Melanie," interprets Mrs. Hale.

"Let's have you and you and you and . . . says Mrs. H. selecting eight girls to re-enact the ghostly kings of the Stewart line. Bill Gibson brings up the rear as Banquo; a scepter made of the morning paper is in his hand.

"Were they the descendants of Banquo?" asks an uninformed boy.

"Sure," comes the answer, "haven't you ever heard of Banquo Stewart?"

In the center of the room, Mrs. Hale, Kathy Greene and Melanie Lockney dance around an imaginary caldron singing "Double, double, toil and trouble, etc." Randy Sengel as Macbeth claims, "I don't believe this."

As the study continues, remarks bounce between the familiar walls: "You mean we're finished?" . . . "I'm in oblivion over this test; how can you study for six weeks then flunk it?" . . . "who said that?" . . . "Let's read it again."

Activities, Assemblies Break Calm Of Everyday Routine

When the words, "Would teachers please escort their students to the auditorium for the assembly", flash over the intercom, a new JM comes to life. Such is also the case with the various activities and opportunities that come scattered through the year and break the everyday routine of student life. Without these blessed "activities" school would surely be dull.

Senior girls enjoy plucking the Harding eagle before the victory on the field.

The homecoming parade gave members of the Safety Club an excuse to skip sixth hour and show their recent medical discoveries.

The first snow of the year adds excitement to the hum-drum lives of the members of the stagecraft class.

DIRECTING THE CHOIR AND ORCHESTRA during the rehearsals for Messiah is Rhetta Mayfield. The evening performance of the Christmas section of Handel's oratorio was well attended. It is due to Mrs. Mayfield's talent and labor that a high school choir could so effectively present this stirring musical work.

Choir, Orchestra, Speech Depts. Join for Exciting Productions

The accomplishments of the music department this year have given much pride to the students and faculty. The one person deserving the most credit for its fine performances is our choir director, Mrs. Rhetta Mayfield. By working hard and developing the ability of her students, she has helped the choir obtain deserving recognition for its excellence.

The four outstanding presentations given this year were the Broadway Review, the Christmas Assembly, and Handel's oratorio, Messiah, and the musical Brigadoon. Credit also goes to the outstanding work of the Senior High Orchestra. The quality of Messiah and the Christmas Assembly was enhanced by this hard-working group directed by Mr. Larry Pendleton.

Brigadoon, a combined project of the speech and vocal music departments, would not have been so delightful were it not for the ability and superior directing of Mr. Andy McCollum and Mrs. Elizabeth Cogdill. The effective scenery was designed and constructed by the talented stagecraft crew under the supervision of Mr. McCollum.

AROUND THE HARPSICHORD, Senior High Choir members rehearse for Messiah which was presented during the Christmas season. Harpsichordist Sharon Williams and guest soloist Warren Thompson were among those who made the program especially memorable.

MANY HOURS OF REHEARSAL were spent in learning Handel's eighteenth century oratorio. The Baroque masterpiece is not often presented by high school choirs because of the work and talents required. The fine performance of our choir is commendable.

GAY TOWNSPEOPLE WATCH with excitement at a flirtatious dance done by Mary Trumbly and Mark Rickle. This is one of the lively dances performed in the school play Brigadoon.

OUT OF THE MIST, Brigadoon appears on the Scottish moor. Sidney Love, Mike Hays and Lana Lou Boyd, center, meet at a fair in the village square.

SINGING "Go Home with Bonnie Jean" is Terry Ferguson

WONDERING WHAT TO DO while waiting for her love is Vicki Kelly. The song, "Waitin' for My Dearie," is sung by Sidney Love and the Brigadoon lassies.

New Fads, Fashions Identify Us As Young

School fashions are very vivid. Girls prefer matching tops and socks to granny dresses. Boys however choose from surfer shirts to big wooley coats. Pierced ears are back in style as are all kinds of bracelets, rings, and drops. In the fall when school began again most of the boys came back looking like surfers with long, long hair. And it seemed everyone wanted to have more fun as a blond. Wheat jeans, corduroy jeans, blue jeans still held their own as the most usual item of clothing for boys. The straight "A" dress and low, low waisted sheath like a parody of the 1920's were most common for the girls. And of course there were penny loafers and sneakers and shirts of Madras plaid.

Not wolves in sheep's clothing, just a pair of wooley bears with a surfer pal. Displaying these boys' fashions are Steve Steward, Rusty McCormick, and George Hayes.

The total look or the totem look? Either way, this style is in with Cindy Orr, Jan Farrar, Fran Hutchison, and Phyllis England.

To drop or not to drop, but the question is, which kind to choose.

Here's to hair! Long may it wave in the land of the free and the home of the brave. Left to right are Mike Kelley, Mike O'Connor and Pat Bernardy.

Trey Aven takes a much needed trip to the coiffeur salon but Alex West has other ideas.

Hilary Lake and Marsha Standifer (sounds like a summer resort) model their granny dresses as Larry Squire looks on in disbelief.

During the spirit-filled "smash Enid" week the O-club sponsored car became a familiar sight.

Bears Show Outstanding Spirit, Set New National Toy Record

Brimming over with spirit, the year of 1966 proved to be the most enthusiastic ever. Establishing a national record for collecting Toys for Tots, the Bears gathered a phenomenal amount of 40,000 toys. Outstanding spirit was also shown during "Smash Enid Week." A possible state championship was too much for Bears to take as JM exploded in a rash of spirit. All students participated in wearing signs and spirit ribbons. Outstanding school pride was also evident in such operations as the Emerson Project and school sponsored dances. These activities brighten the everyday life of JM students and are very much a part of student life.

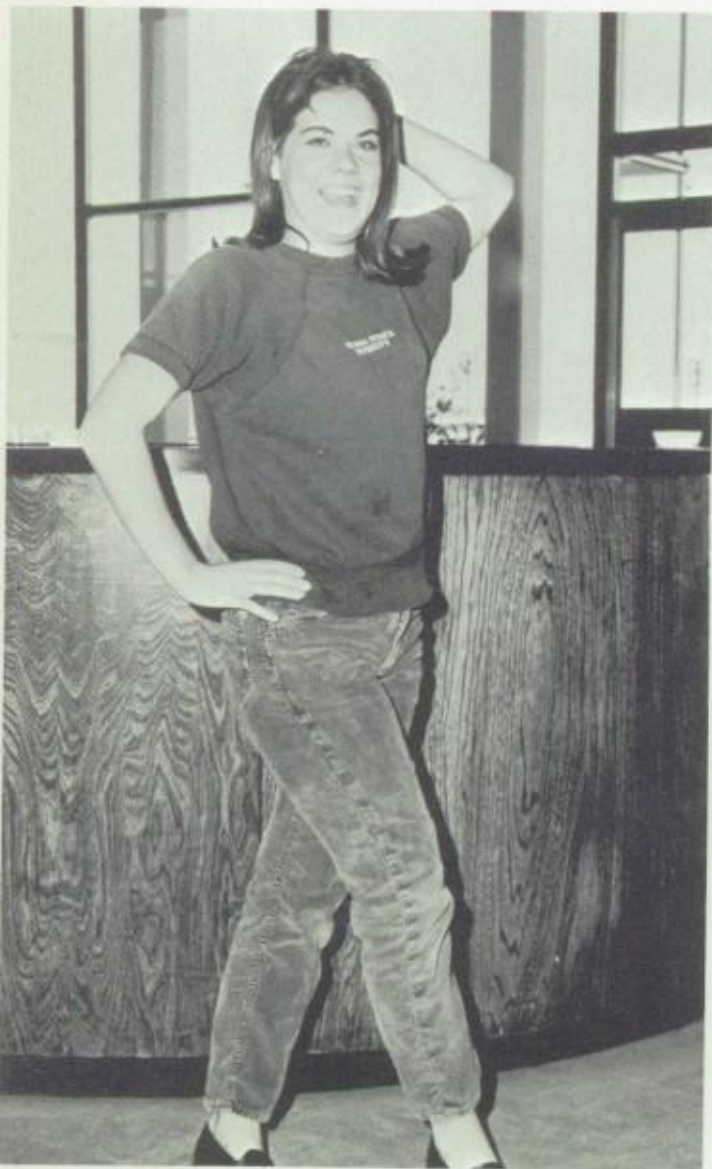

When the spirit bug bites, anything can happen! Kerry Cranmer proudly displays his ten-foot spirit bear.

Teri Edlis, Bob Paul, Dan Scott, Ron Hayes, and Bill Allen enjoy the toys collected for the "Toys for Tots" before the Marines come to take them away.

Classes End, Students Depart, Go Separate Ways

Let me entertain you! Diana Brown loosens up after a trying day.

A football game was always on the agenda during the fall for pep club girls and other active students.

Leaders of School System Are Busy Men

Jack F. Parker
Superintendent of Schools

The Board of Education has the task of directing the Oklahoma City public schools in an efficient and effective manner. Four members are elected from each of Oklahoma City's four political wards for a four year term. Elections are bi-partisan and non-political. This year the responsibility of directing the public schools has been undertaken by five able persons.

Under the guidance of Jack F. Parker, Superintendent of Schools, the board has given many hours of dedicated work towards improving the school system. Together Dr. Parker and the board strive to keep education methods and materials as modern as possible.

Mr. Robert Cheney graduated from Northwestern, Evanston, Illinois with a Bachelor of Science in 1939, and did graduate work at Columbia University. Before coming to John Marshall he was principal of Roosevelt Junior High School and Classen High School for three years. He has been at John Marshall for eight years. He is an active member of the Oklahoma Education Association, School Principals, and a member of the Taft Stadium Board.

Yearbook messages are acts of faith. Lacking the gift of prophecy, the principal must attempt to transcribe ideas in October that will still convey meaning in May.

This task cannot be accomplished without reference to the record. When the past has been analyzed, a guess about the future may be hazarded.

The SENIOR CLASS of 1966 meets all tests required for greatness: leadership, dedication, potential. I predict an outstanding year!

Congratulations, Seniors.

Assistant Principals Have Job Year-Round With Varied Duties

Mr. Ed Berry went to Phillips University at Enid and did graduate work at the University of Oklahoma. Before coming to John Marshall he was assistant principal at Southeast High School for eight years. He has spent eight years at John Marshall. He is eager and ready to help any student that needs guidance. The students are proud to have Mr. Berry as an assistant principal of their school.

Mr. Ed Berry

Assistant Principal June Dawkins earned his degrees from Central State College and the University of Oklahoma. He has worked for eighteen years in Oklahoma schools. Mr. Dawkins is well pleased with John Marshall and says it is potentially one of the finest schools in the city. He hopes that a dedicated school spirit will develop through administrative and student leadership, self-control and self-discipline.

Many School Transactions Pass Desks of Secretaries

The secretariat of John Marshall directs office work including attendance records, keeping records up-to-date, running the switchboard, typing business letters for the principals and putting out the daily bulletin. It issues supplies to the teachers and aids in better communication between the student and the administration. Seniors Live in Expectation of Graduation

This year's graduating students have gone from bobby socks and the Everly Brothers to penny loafers and the protest songs of Bob Dylan in a few short years. Almost three hundred twenty-five members of this year's senior class are planning to go to a university or college. Some have already been accepted because they applied in the summer. Besides all their scholastic achievements, this class has had its share of fun, as the following pages will show. Fund-raising projects, poster parties, dances after our football and basketball games are just a few of the senior-attended activities. The senior girls sponsored a Christmas dance and invited the junior girls to ask their favorite boys. It was a big success. Seniors were treated to the traditional Junior-Senior Prom. The Senior Sermon held in one of the city churches is looked forward to by most graduates; there seems to be a certain air of humility as the procession marches down the aisle of the church. Then it's all over—they must begin again . . .

They won't be forgotten—Seniors of '66—for one day these fine young men and women will be among the leaders of our nation.

A LOVE OF THE SEA is strong in the Scandinavian blood of Ronny Lovdahl. The gulls on Lake Hefner are all of the sea that Oklahoma City could offer him. He spent a year at John Marshall as a foreign exchange student. Last year the students of the school eagerly bought "bonds" to bring Ronny over from Sweden. He was an active and fine member of the school and it is hoped that he found a second home on the plains far from the northern fjords.

GRADUATING STUDENTS live in a world of expectation. Steve Eagleston, Lana Lou Boyd, Jim Allman, Patty Patten, Brad Faudree and Kathy Riley pause together before the Baccalaureate service, a time of quiet contemplation, a time that will long be remembered.

TALKING ABOUT THE PROM are ten members of the Junior Council. Mr. Sparks, their head sponsor, is telling them of their duties to insure a successful dance.

Juniors Hold Tight to Their Speedy Course

MOTORCYCLES ARE FUN say Juniors Ronnie Anderson and Larry Blakley as they show a Yamaha to Tommy Gibson and Bill Hebblethwaite. Motorcycles have been very popular with boys at school this year.

In its five years of high school, the class of 1967 has contributed much to the success of John Marshall. Numbering five hundred forty six strong, the Juniors started off the year with great excitement and anticipation but didn't elect their class officers until November. They had the new experience of paying Junior Dues; and by working together, planned the successful Junior-Senior Prom of 1966. Thirty-nine members of the class were listed on the honor roll with a grade average of B-plus or better. The Juniors helped greatly with the fantastic spirit that the school showed this year. They turned out in number and with high spirits for dances, parties, football games, and other athletic events during the year. Here is a Junior class that is looking forward eagerly to a bright, creative future. Its members have attended such vocational programs as College Night and Career Night to learn more about planning for that future.

To School We Run—For Study and For Fun!

The seven hundred and fifty-two sophomores outdid themselves this year in spirit, enthusiasm, and academic achievements. The class elected its officers on November 15. They are: David Ranney, president; Paul Albers, vice president; Jana Van Arnham, secretary; Jury Ayers, treasurer. These officers have shown their leadership in all fields especially that of student relationships.

The sophomore curriculum consists of English, United States history, geometry, algebra, and these electives: metalwork, any number of classes in the fine arts department, and courses in business. This is the first year that the students are allowed to participate in varsity sports and they have taken advantage of this privilege.

Spirit Day was not just an ordinary day for these sophomores. The school colors of red and blue were worn by the majority of the class. Their extracurricular activities began with a formal dance at Quail Creek in November. The Runaways, a combo of three guitars and a drum, seemed quite popular with the sophomores as they have played at many other dances. This first dance led to many other activities and to recreation for the remainder of the school year.

Noted achievements were attained by our students working towards a common goal, that of showing true friendliness, worthiness, and devotion to our school. Yes, these are the sophomores who strive to make J. M. a spirited school. They are looking into the future and toward the wonderful feeling on graduation when as they walk in their caps and gowns with individual diplomas and say, "I'm proud of John Marshall."

THE SOPHOMORES ARE PROUD of their officers. They were elected on November 15, and are: Jana Van Arnham, secretary; David Ranney, president; Jury Ayers, treasurer; Paul Albers, vice president.

ANOTHER YEAR at JM and the sophomores, a little timid now being with the older students, casually attend their first day. Here are Terry Fullerton, Ricky Jackson, David Ranney.

Freshmen Are Seen Where The Action Is

The three hundred and sixty-four freshmen students enrolled this year were offered various classes in mathematics, science, social studies, orchestra and band, foreign languages and English. Also available were driver's education, metalworking, mechanical drawing, homemaking, sewing, physical education and art.

Excellent conduct during assemblies has given freshmen a good rating with the faculty. Remarks such as, "the freshmen are a well-behaved group," and "why doesn't the whole student body act like this?" reflect the attitude of the staff.

His life is not just made up of dances and assemblies, but he gives serious thought to the future as he plans ahead. The graduate of 1969 will prove to be one of the most outstanding, well-educated and farseeing individuals of the future to make a lasting impression on our state, country and world.

WAITING IN LINE in the foyer are Betty Polly, Jan Hollingsworth, Nakita Buckner and Margaret Shelton. While standing together, they decide to talk awhile since they are on their lunch hour; or are they excused from class?

FRESHMAN ENGLISH STUDENTS, Lauranell James, Bob Bernardy, Gary Flowers and Karen Thedford learn to appreciate fine literature and how to write effectively. The principles of grammar are also studied in Mr. Rutledge's class.

Eighth Graders Get Into the Swing of Things

After a year of a sort of orientation, the John Marshall eighth graders plunged into their second year with a new found sophistication. They found their way through the halls, and they were well on their way to finding a place for themselves in the school society. All three hundred and seven have participated in many school activities such as a Halloween party, sock hops, the orchestra and band, and Junior High Student Council activities. The eighth graders have shown their greatest enthusiasm with a tremendous support of the High School band and orchestra. If they continue to progress, there is a promising future for the music department of John Marshall. The activities of the Junior High Student Council have already begun to benefit the whole school. Because of this group, wash basins have been installed in the cafeteria. They have also taken an active part in the Inter-City Student Council. Good luck to the Seniors of 1970!

Seventh Graders Proud To Become Bears

Like all newcomers to a high school, the class of 1971 moved into the school year with great expectations and much excitement. The Orientation, held on August 24, gave the seventh graders an idea of what going to six different classes a day would be like. The classes these seventh graders must take are modern mathematics, English, science, geography, industrial arts, and homemaking. They also have a choice of physical education, speech, choir, band, Spanish, and French. This year's activities began with the annual Junior High Howdy Hop held in the cafeteria. As the year progressed, the seventh graders showed their eagerness to become Bears by attending many of the football and basketball games and other school sponsored events. The seventh graders displayed much enthusiasm during the Christmas season by participating in the Toys for Tots campaign. Also, the home economics classes filled packages to be sent overseas to Viet Nam. They further displayed their energy by selling magazine subscriptions to help our Fine Arts Fund, and by selling candy to buy new uniforms for the band. Our seventh graders have started their high school years with the kind of excitement that will make the John Marshall of 1971 a school to be proud of. Our future lies in the hands of the new seventh grader, and a more important year cannot be found in anyone's high school career.

DANCING AT THE HOWDY HOP sponsored by the Junior High Student Council, are seventh graders Mark Monsey and Debra Stevens. The dance, which was held after school in the cafeteria, was a big success.

THE SEVENTH GRADERS listen attentively as Tim Claussing, president of the Junior High Student Council, discusses matters with eighth grader, Guy Davenport. Mrs. Kathryn Leverett is the council's sponsor.

SPORTS

John Marshall has produced one of the most comprehensive athletic programs in the state, resulting in some of the most outstanding teams in the area. The athletic program covers almost every conceivable sport for boys and girls alike. Boys in grades nine through twelve are offered football and cross country in the fall—in the winter basketball and wrestling. The spring program includes golf, track, tennis, swimming, and baseball. The junior high men of the school are not forgotten for football, basketball, and wrestling are offered seasonally.

The girls' program involves an all-around field of volleyball, softball, swimming, tennis, badminton, and ping-pong. John Marshall can well be proud of the female athletes who have excelled in all these divisions of sports.

Through the efforts of all the supporters of every sport and the hard work and training of the individuals and teams, John Marshall has gained a reputation of having winning teams with outstanding sportsman-like conduct.

ESPIE THE LOSS against Southeast, Pat Kernan, all-state half-back, cuts loose against the opponent's defense for a long gain a touchdown in making another try towards victory.

Hard Work Pays Off in Football Success

In the first game of the season, our team knocked off Northeast to the tune of 19-6. Ada with a strong defense defeated us 14-6 in a thrilling game. The team bounced back to defeat Lawton Ike, 15-8. They then went on for their second straight victory and defeated Douglass 20-8. In one of the biggest games of the season, Southeast defeated us 36-20. The next week the team bounced back with a 10-0 victory over stubborn Northwest. In the rival game with Harding, we knocked the Eagles back with a 14-8 win. In probably the hardest fought game of the season, we tied Grant 0-0. At the big game of the season, we were beaten by Enid 28-3. We then defeated Putnam City 20-6.

Coach Kyle*

John Kyle came to John Marshall in 1963 as an assistant football coach and in that year the team won the class-A state championship. He had graduated at mid-term from Central State College. In 1964 he became head football coach and now is also baseball coach. In 1965 he was the golf coach. In his first year as head-coach his football team had a 9- record. Coach Kyle is also the senior high school gym instructor.

Coach Jackie Cowan graduated from Northeast High School in 1960. While there he was an all around athlete. While attending the University of Oklahoma, he played football and baseball. He graduated in 1964 and took a coaching position at Norman Junior High School. Here he is assistant football coach and head baseball coach.

Coach Ron Horn graduated from Yukon High School in 1961. He then attended the University of Oklahoma where he played football. He was graduated in 1965. John Marshall is his first high school coaching assignment. He coaches junior high basketball and helps instruct in some of the other school activities.

Cross Country Runners Portray Endurance As Well As Speed

The long distance runners of our cross-country team, had a successful season this fall. The team led by seniors Emmett Clark, and Russ Hanson; juniors Jeff Greene, and John Stover; and sophomore Jerry Bagley won the only dual meet of the year against Northwest. In a four team meet they won over Putnam City, Northeast, and Classen. They placed fourth in all-city and second in conference behind Southeast. After the good all-city showing, they did not place in the state tournament. Emmett Clark led the team with a ninth place, the highest on the team, at the all-city meet. Next year's team should be strong with six returning lettermen. Five of them are juniors and only one is a sophomore. The endurance of these runners is the pride of our school. These boys put out more effort than any of the other sports in high school.

CECIL EPPERLY attended High School in Stillwater where he participated in Basketball, baseball and track. He then started at Oklahoma State University in 1958 and graduated in 1963 with a bachelors Degree in Education. He participated only in Basketball in college. His practice teaching was done at Stillwater High School, he then taught for one year in Liberal Kansas before coming to John Marshall.

Swimming Team All-City Champs; First Year Best for Coach Harrington

Hard work and determination made this year's swimming team the best in many years. In his first year as swimming coach, Foster Harrington, coached this team to a most successful season and an all-city championship. Led by Andy Holmes, and Jerry Morrison, seniors; Chuck Massey and Tom Gibson, juniors; Bob Olmstead and Bill Schmidt, sophomores; this team won many dual meets, losing only to Harding and Northwest. The team, led by Tom Gibson's two first places—one of them a new city record—won All-City.

Fast Moving Matmen Contend For Toughest State Title Ever

In Harvey Weigle's first year as wrestling coach, the grapplers only lost two dual meets, one of these to State Champs, Grant. At regionals in Duncan, the team took a third place, with four individual champions: John Savage, Jerry Bagley, Blair Fennell and Dennis Waggoner. At the state tournament in Edmond, the team had a poor showing in taking third place. Not one JM wrestler took a first place. Jerry Bagley and Dennis Waggoner took seconds; John Savage and Steve Eagleston took thirds. With most of this year's squad graduating, next year's team success is doubtful.

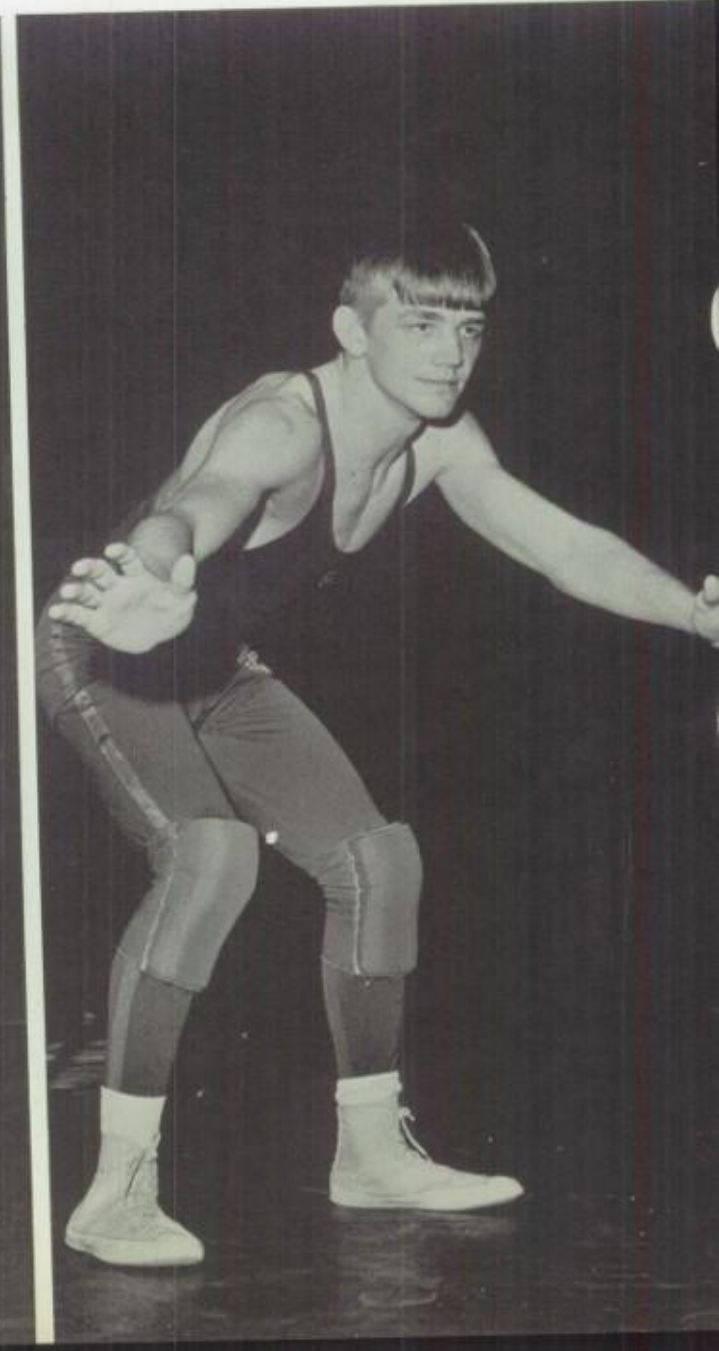

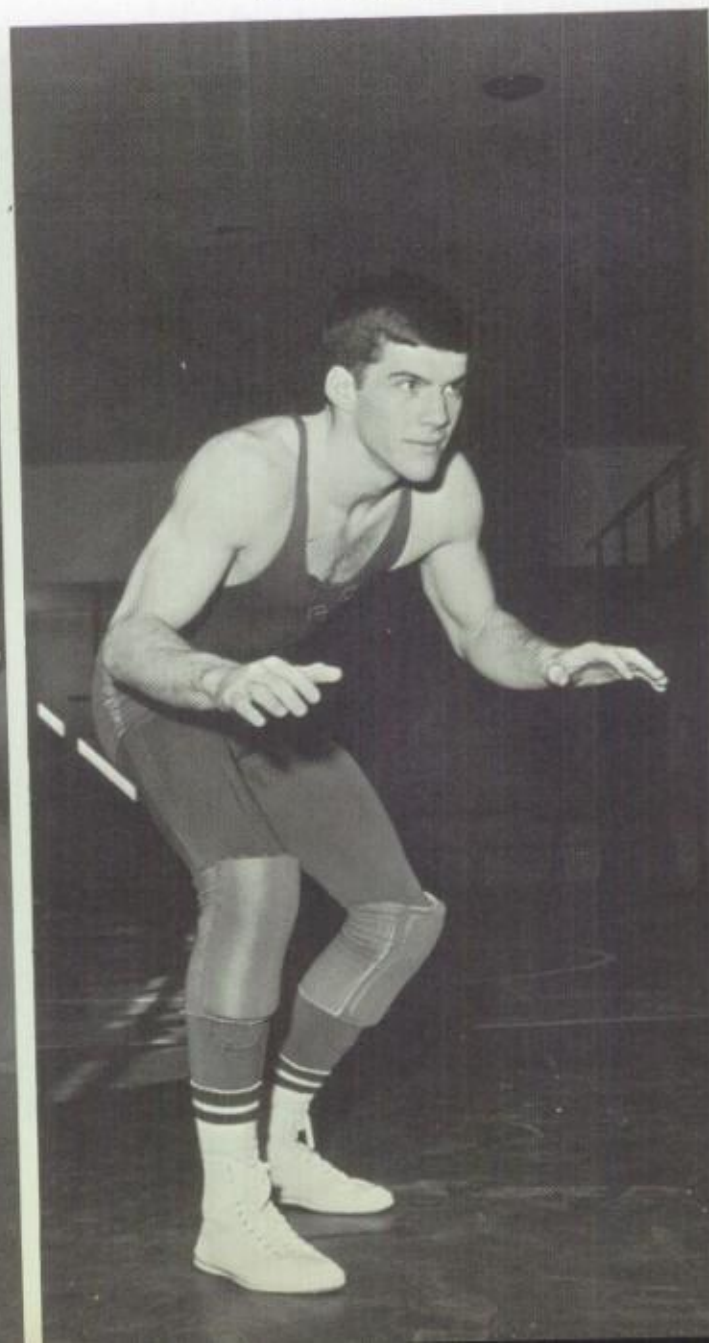

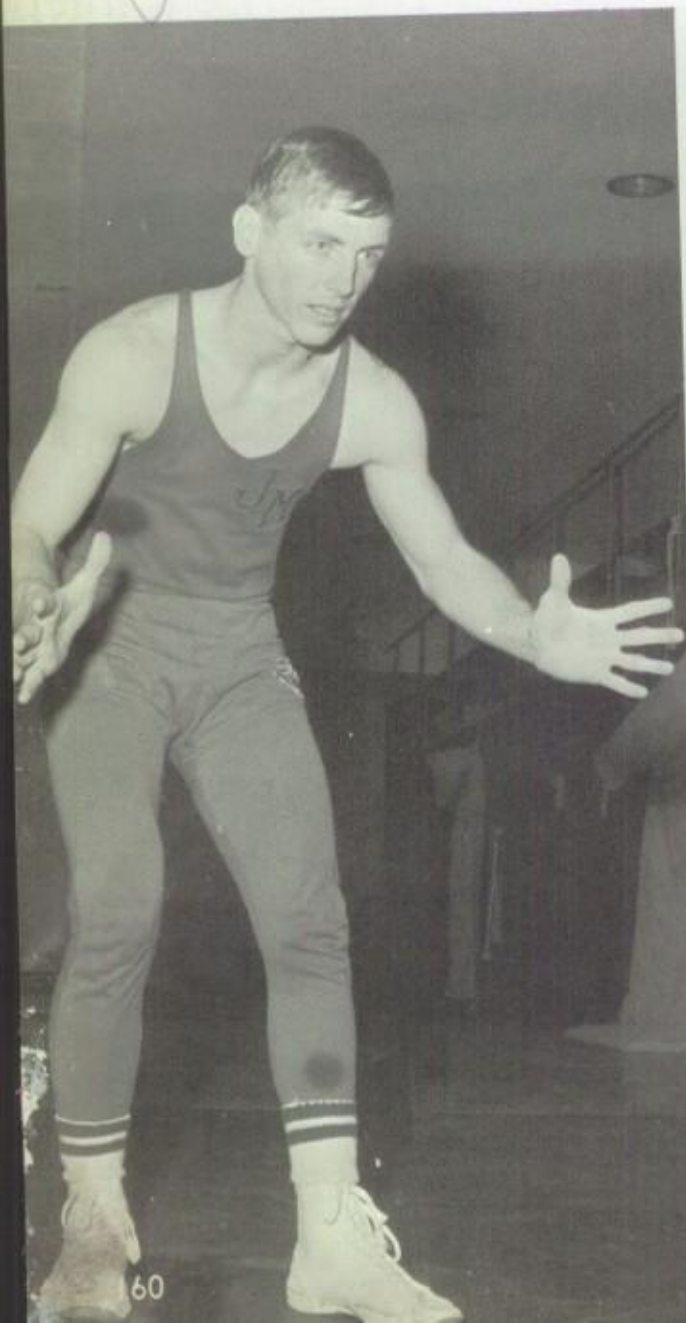

COACH HARVY WEIGLE attended Northern Oklahoma Junior College 1950-1952. During those two years he participated in football. He was then in the service from 1952-1954. After completing his time in the military service he was in a private business of his own from 1954-1962. He then started to Northwestern State Teachers College in 1962 and graduated in 1964. He was a student teacher at Blackwell Oklahoma. John Marshall is the only school where he has taught.

Girls Enjoy Swimming, Sports; Compete for Health, Happiness

Every day at 2:35, the sixth hour bell rings and thirty physically fit girls rush into the girls' gym. They shed their school clothes for more comfortable things and play ball. In the autumn the athletes play softball, in the winter volleyball and basketball. Spring brings individual sports—badminton, tennis, and ping-pong. Swimming is a year-round sport in the heated pool at the Northside YMCA. Team sports are played with girls from other schools in basketball and volleyball. Our girls join tournaments to prove their skills in individual sports. Besides winning a good name for our school, they keep themselves happy and healthy and have a good time too.

Organizations Benefit Future Leaders

Clubs and organizations help develop students in ways other than the scholastic. Our future leaders sometimes get their first training in the offices they hold in high school organizations. There are some clubs which are set up to teach students aspects of a trade or vocation. Others are designed to develop good citizenship and high standards of character. The pep clubs promote spirit at all sports events and give encouragement to the players before the games. Many organizations provide services for our school. The key club contributed an American flag to every classroom in the building. They also have several clean-ups throughout the year. Students are given a chance to show their talents in such clubs as the National Forensic League and Thespians. Clubs and organizations are a highly important part of our school life.

A year of several accomplishments for the Student Council began with a highly successful Howdy Week. During the United Appeal drive students gave over twice as much money as they gave last year. The most successful project of the year was the Toys for Tots drive when they not only collected more toys than any other school in the city, but set a national record. The Student Council certainly had a year to be proud of.

Senior High Honor Society Sets Standards

The Honor Society is an organization set up to recognize character, leadership, scholarship and citizenship in students. If a student maintains a 3.5 grade average for two consecutive semesters he is initiated into the Honor Society. There are two initiations held per year. The students in this organization have a great potentiality which, used in a wise manner, will open many doors for them in later life.

Junior High Develops Future Leaders

The Junior High Honor Society is set up to honor students who have maintained a 3.5 grade average and to develop in them high standards of character to guide them through life. Another organization for leaders of our school, is the Junior High Student Council. They work on such activities as the election, their constitution, Toys for Tots, and the United Appeal. Also this year they fixed up the bathrooms and hallway near the cafeteria.

Freshman Council Stages Dance

The senior class plans all the aspects of their graduation, including the Senior Sermon, Senior Luncheon, Senior Assembly and Commencement. The main purpose of the Junior Council is to plan the prom which is the biggest event of the year for juniors and seniors. This takes a great deal of time and effort but it is greatly appreciated and always remembered. Making plans for the coming years and thinking of ways to improve their class is the job of the sophomore council. The freshman council held a very successful dance after a game this year, adding a good sum to their treasury.

Art Club Stages Assembly; FEX Committee Brings "Sweden" to JM

In the spring, pictures drawn by the art students of our school are seen hanging on the walls of the cafeteria on exhibition. Also, there is an annual Art Assembly to show different styles and types of art. A new club at our school, the Foreign Exchange committee, worked hard last spring and brought to the halls of John Marshall a student from Sweden. Plans have already been made to bring another student here next year.

Tri-Hi-Y is an organization set up to develop high standards of character in girls. One of the Tri-Hi-Y's most important programs is Youth in Government. In this program students take the positions of senators and representatives and discuss bills which they have written. This helps develop good citizens and gives them a knowledge of how our government works. Also, each year the Tri-Hi-Y contributes greatly to the World Service Project.

The band has made a fine contribution to this year's musical activities. They are seen at sports events to set the pace for the spectator's spirit. Pep assemblies are much more lively when they are kicked off by the band. Everyone is proud of the improvement in the band's marching formations this year. Band members received new uniforms, and this coupled with enthusiasm made the Homecoming Parade a memorable activity. The band competes in many contests each year, and did very well this year.

Advocate Receives All-American Rating

Diana Pruitt, Sharon Francis, Jan Montgomery, Mrs. Housholder and Marydith Asch discuss fundamentals of an award winning paper.

Proofreading pages before a deadline are editors Mary Margaret Smith, Missy Ayers, Kirk Fredrickson, Christie Cooper and Jerry Blackburn.

Staff members of the All-American Advocate had high goals this year as they worked to maintain the high quality of the paper. Participating in both city and state press associations, the highlight of the journalists' year was the National Scholastic Press Convention in Chicago, Illinois. Under the guidance of Mrs. Maxine Housholder, sponsor, the Advocate has brought both information and entertainment to the John Marshall student body.

Hard working photographers Valerie Smith and Alex West pause from their job to give us a chance to take their picture. Bob Paul (not pictured) worked with Valerie and Alex.

Doug Tower, Woody Dale and Lee Streetman demand hard work from their 'secretaries' Suzy Fischback, Cece Sprowls and Pat Ford as they prepare the sports and feature sections of the Advocate.

Gavel Awarded Lowest Rating by OIPA Judges

Joe Wallace, managing editor

Concentrating on writing good copy are Tanya Musick; Faculty Editor Neal Green; Sports Editor Charles Baptiste, and Mike Sullivant, assistant sports editor.

Accepting with wry smiles a low rating that was slapped on one of the most popular yearbooks to come from John Marshall, the 66 Gavel staff worked extra hours to win the favor of the judges. The 65 Gavel was awarded a "with honors" rating, the lowest possible award, by the OIPA, once again proving that the people know best. Could it be the Gavel just can't win because of "poor lobbying" or is it because "Bears are Best"?

Helping meet the final deadline by writing captions for pictures are Lana Lou Boyd, Jan Edwards, Koni Busken, Gail Appleby, and Vicki Brown.

Posing for this picture are Diane Reeves, Karen Quillin, and Beverly Bentley, but Lynn Wakeham and Nancy Dawes are camera shy.

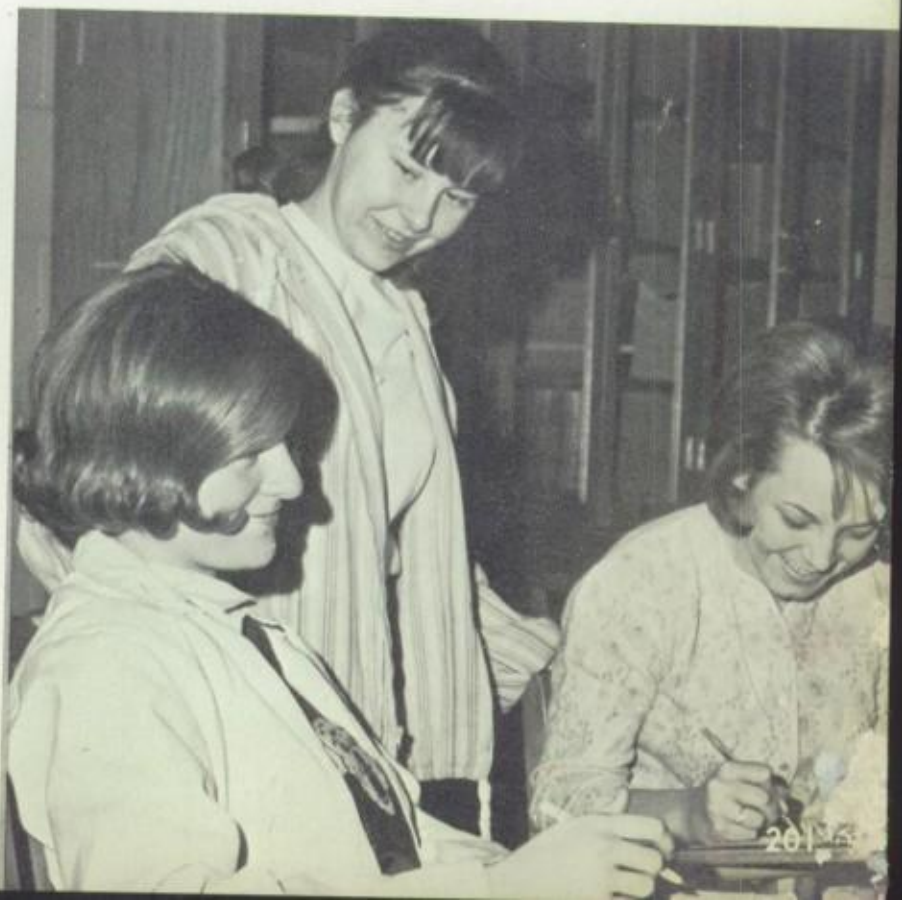

Bob Paul, assistant photographer

Organizations Editor Barbara Comstock and Sophomore Editor Pippin Monsey relax after one of the tiring planning sessions.

Class clowns Cheryl Muehleisen, Debby Lasater, and Laura Ford were always on hand to brighten up dark days.

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

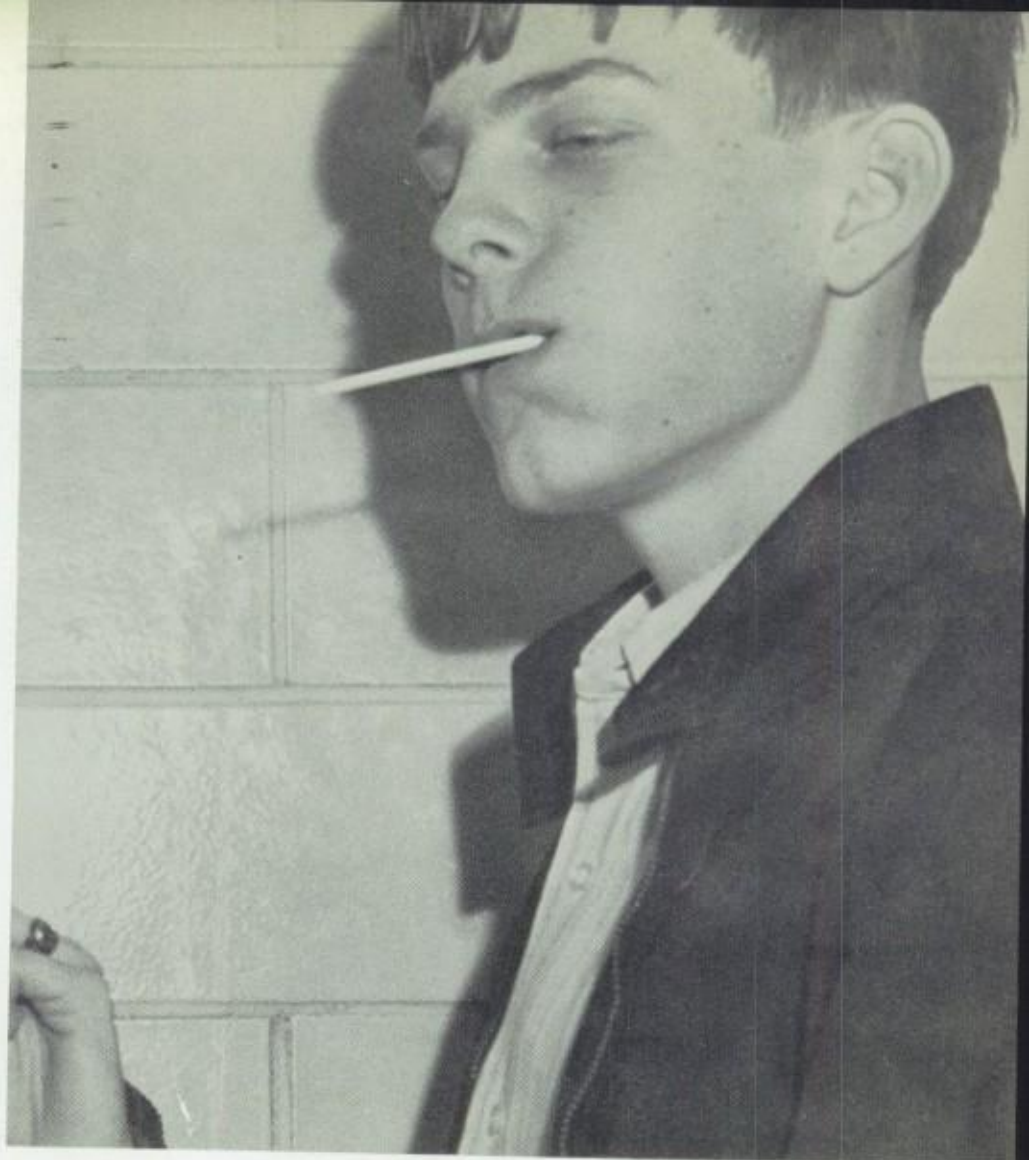

Youth Is a Land Through Which Everyone Passes, Yet Few Can Really Remember What It Is Like To Be Young

The headline above well expresses the separate content on which the youth of today and the adults of today live. The difference of the two groups is as sharp as the twang of an electric guitar. Sociologists study us, the government worries about us, so off goes an able generation to Viet Nam! Understand though, we are against war in a moral way; practically we can see its expediency.

Youth today expects much from the world and what comes, whether it be good or bad, it's got to be ours. The youth of today can see this truth in a perspective which few adults can perceive.

Nobody knows what the future holds for today's youth, but in our awareness of faults and virtues of the adult world, we hold up a mirror to society.

Unnerved by the persistent thundering beat of today's music and baffled by the lyrics of song writers like Bob Dylan, parents are always shutting the door to block the sound out.

Vacation, Wacky Play Cap Spring

A week of springtime vacation ended March 28, and winter's bitterness slowly faded into spring's sweetness. The wacky side of life was portrayed in the year's second all-school play, "You Can't Take It With You."

Votes were tallied by a machine, the outcome being that Randy Guffey will lead the JM Student Council next year.

At the Twirp Week "Baby Ball," teens regressed to toddlers and littered the dance floor with a mixture of lollipops and bubblegum crushed by the patter of "little" feet.

Hoping for warmer weather, anxious barbequers converged on Will Rogers Park that same week for hamburgers and iced tea when hot coffee would have been more apropos.

JM's Baseball Team Sets Torrid Pace

JM's baseball team slid into its second straight Capital Conference championship this spring, ending the season May 6 with a 9-2 conference record and a 15-5 overall.

From the start of their campaign the Bears were contenders for the title, and by mid-April even Northeast's domineering Vikings found it hard to keep up with the torrid pace set by Marshall.

Guided by Coach John Kyle, JM senior Sonny Bowers led the team in batting with a .377 average and received All-State honors.

Track Boys Break Two JM Records

Led by Bill Perkins and Emmett Clark, seniors, and Jeff Greene and Bill Allen, juniors, JM's tracksters closed out their last season in the Capital Conference with two school records falling.

Randy Olmstead, senior, set a new school pole vault record of 11' 9", while Perkins, also a senior, jumped 22' 5" to set a new broad jump record. Next year JM enters the Mid-State Conference

Bruce Barrett Again Tennis Star; Golfers Win Third In Conference

Bruce Barrett, senior, was the year's stand-out in tennis as he has been for the past two seasons.

Leading in scoring and skill, Barrett took the 18-and-under title at the City Chamber of Commerce Tennis Tourney, May 7. Coach Cecil Epperley headed the tennis fortunes.

JM's golfers, under Coach Jackie Cowan, wrapped up their season in the Capital Conference Tourney, April 22.

Bear Scholars Recognized

Four of the students recognized at assemblies April 29 and May 6 are pictured above: Rod McEver and Kathy Castle, top, and Fritzta Scott and Toby Casteel, below.

Rod, who walked away with the most awards from the assemblies, received word May 27 he had been selected as a Presidential Scholar, one of 120 youths in the nation so honored. This is the second consecutive year Marshall has graduated a Presidential Scholar. Rod, serving as president of the Pickwick Club and Honor Society and vice president of the Honor Math and Science Clubs, still had time to maintain all A's. A finalist in the National Honor Society Scholarship, he was also a National Merit Scholar and winner of the Phi Beta Kappa Award. Other awards he collected were the Gaylord Physics and Math Award, the Letzeiser Gold Medal and the John Marshall Scholarship and Achievement Plaque.

Kathy was winner of the Foreign Language Award for six years of excellence and the Letzeiser Gold Medal Award. She was a member of the Honor Society, serving as secretary of both the local and state organizations this year. She was also treasurer of Thespians and vice president of French Club and a member of Pickwick, Tri-Hi-Y, Latin Clubs and the Student Council.

Fritzta took the Science Awards by winning the Bausch and Lomb, Science Fair and Ford Future Scientist Awards. A member of the Honor Spanish Club two years, she served as treasurer this year. Fritzta was a member of the Safety Council her sophomore year and an Honor Society member and participated in girls' sports her junior year. This year she was an FTA and German Club member and participated in the Science Fair, Science Seminar and Oil Executive for a Day.

Another National Merit Finalist, Toby served as vice president of both the Key Club and Honor Society while presiding over the Honor Math and Latin Clubs. He was a member of the Student Council his junior and senior years, serving as treasurer this year. Toby was the recipient of the Mathematics Award, the Letzeiser Silver Medal and the Gaylord Chemistry and Mathematics Award.

Two awards assemblies recognized excellence of JM Bears in 1966. Awards presented April 29 in the first of the two annual awards assemblies were departmental awards. Those presented May 6 were contributed by civic groups, individuals and foundations in recognition of achievement in specific fields.

Scholastic excellence is stimulated by these presentations which are closely guarded secrets until announced in the assemblies held each spring.

Superlatives Show Virtues; Srs. Investigate Big Time

Annually, at the end of the school year, seniors choose the 20 Senior Superlatives, and teachers choose the five Outstanding Seniors. Making light of themselves and their accomplishments are those groups pictured here.

Far Left Top: Linda Ray and Wes Stone prove they are the "Friendliest" while Steve Eagleston kisses Sandi Partridge's hand to depict how the "Most Polite" behave. Next to them, Suzy Fischback sits on Pat Kernan's shoulder, portraying the "Most Athletic." They are cheered on by the "Most School Spirited," Kay Young and Ronny Lovedahl.

Seniors Say 'Goodbye' At Prom, Assembly, Luncheon

"Down the fair-chambered corridor of years,
The quiet shutting, one by one, of doors."
So Principal Robert B. Cheney bid farewell in an emotion-filled address to the Class of 1966 at the Senior Luncheon. The day began with a morning assembly. Interspersed with satire on school life was student talent. Lana Lou Boyd, above, winner of the "Miss Village" title, performed as part of the talent. Ten days earlier, the class of 1967 honored the seniors with "Moon River" as the theme of the Junior-Senior Prom. Promgoers are pictured on the opposite page.

1966 Gavels Distributed

School Over Next Day

A week overdue, yearbooks arrived, May 25, and were distributed following the traditional assembly. To make up for the late start, the Key Club sponsored a Signature Swing with the music furnished by the Runaways.

Lacking the glory of a year finished, but necessary for the finale, lockers had to be cleaned and locks checked in. The last day of school is a year of friendship crowded into a scant five hours.

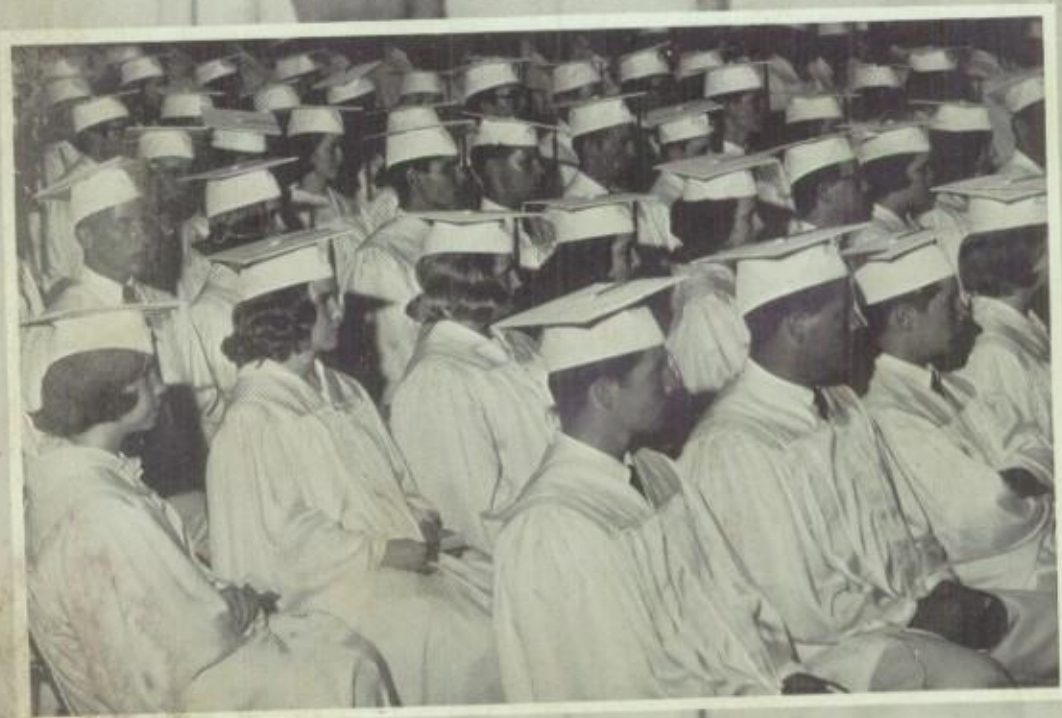

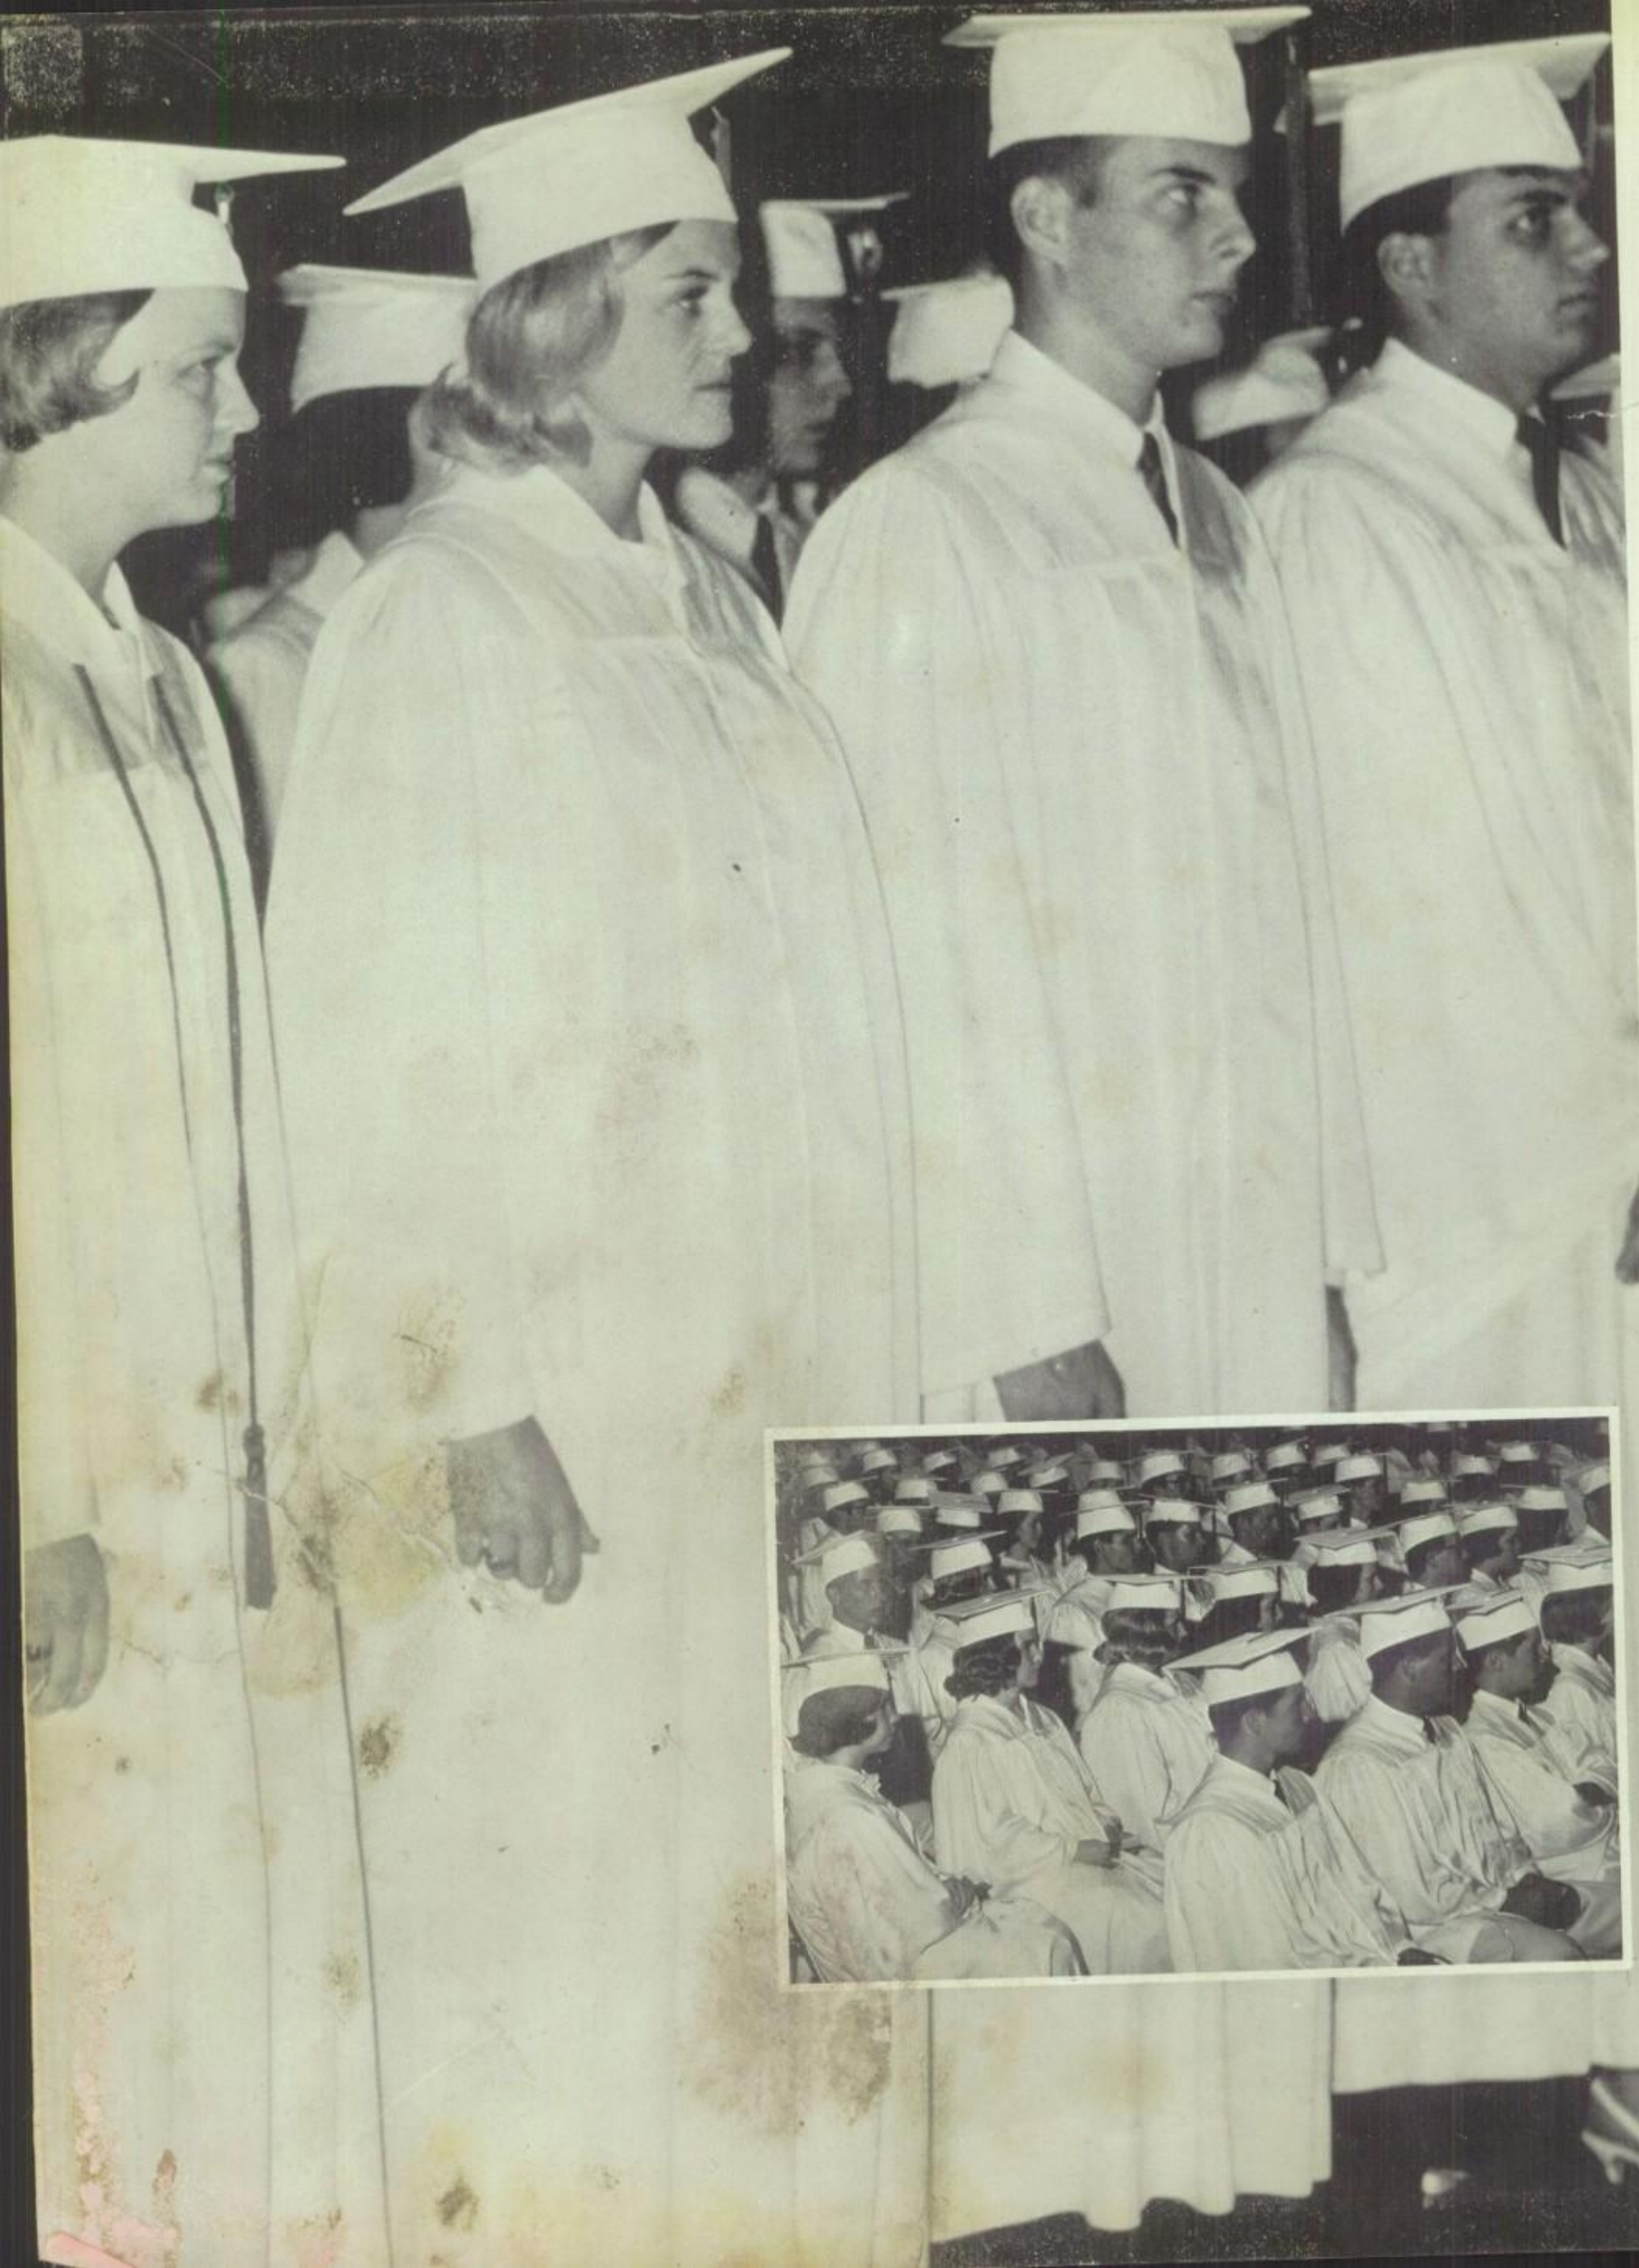

A climax to that last week of that last year for many, May 26 was 12 years in the making, and, after being dismissed an hour early, many found it hard to believe that they wouldn't be back again.

Left: Just one of many so decorated, a car, obviously belonging to a senior, waits in all its glory for its owner to return.
